The gateway to scholarly information in the Netherlands

NARCIS is the national Dutch portal for anyone looking for information about researchers and their work in the Netherlands. Besides researchers and policy makers, NARCIS is also used by students, journalists and education, government and business professionals.

NARCIS (National Academic Research and Collaborations Information System) offers you access to the huge collection of the repositories of the Dutch universities, KNAW, NWO and a number of research institutes, supplemented by research data and descriptions of research projects, researchers and research institutes.

Personal information in NARCIS
Are you trying to find a researcher in a specific field? In NARCIS you won’t have trouble finding the right person. A personal profile page offers the researcher’s contact details as well as an overview of research projects, (open access) publications and datasets. For many researchers a Digital Author Identifier (DAI) is included. This unique personal number ensures that the right person is always referred to when information is reused or cited.

Scholarly information in NARCIS
In NARCIS you will also find the metadata of publications from the Dutch universities and other research institutes, as well as datasets originating from DANS and other data archives. Many publications are open access and may be used immediately. Moreover, all bibliographical details can be exported directly from NARCIS to EndNote, RefWorks and Mendeley. Also part of the datasets are open access available.

Using QR codes
All individual researchers and research institutes have their own QR code in NARCIS. Researchers can include their QR codes in journals or print them on a poster, for example. Scanning the code gives access to the corresponding NARCIS webpage with an overview of contact details, publications and research activities.

Do you want to submit your expertise into NARCIS?
You can report your expertise after logging into NARCIS. If you have a personal page in NARCIS, you may update your data and add expertise. If you don’t have an individual page in NARCIS, please register first. Within a few days you will receive an email with a link to your personal information. Then you can add new expertise and personal data.

Do you want to stay up to date?
After each search NARCIS offers you an RSS feed to keep you up to date with the latest (open access) publications, datasets and research projects in your field of interest. NARCIS also has a widget enabling you to dynamically post your search results on your blog or website.

Close collaboration
The content of NARCIS is the responsibility of DANS in close collaboration with the universities, KNAW, NWO and other research institutes.

Data Archiving and Networked Services (DANS)
DANS promotes sustained access to digital research data. For this, DANS encourages scientific researchers to archive and reuse data in a sustained form, for instance via the online archiving system EASY (easy.dans.knaw.nl) and DataverseNL (dataverse.nl). With NARCIS (narcis.nl), DANS also provides access to thousands of scientific datasets, publications and other research information in the Netherlands. The institute furthermore provides training and consultancy and carries out research on sustained access to digital information.

Driven by data, DANS ensures the further improvement of access to digital research data with its services and participation in (inter)national projects and networks. Please visit dans.knaw.nl/en for more information and contact details.
